The Baptist Assembly.

(Cape Girardeau Republican.) The Missouri Baptist Assembly meets at Arcadia Heights, Ironton, Mo., August 3, and lasts twelve days.
This will be its seventh annual meeting. It started in 1909 with an enrollment of 260. Last year the enrollment was 1453. This year it promises to be still larger.

Arcadia Heights is a mountain 1400 feet above the sea level, 1000 feet above the highest point in St. Louis.
Geologists call it the "nucleus of the American continent." The assembly grounds is just across from Pilot Knob, from which it is separated by a deep and wooded valley, with a mountain of lower altitude at its northern extremity. It is reached by a winding and well-kept road, fit for automobiles, with numbers of them going and coming during the encampment.

The grounds include 130 acres. There is a large tabernacle, a restaurant, four bungalows for rental purposes, an office building, sanitary toilets, tents and tent floors, a large swimming pool, a complete water system, including pump house, a 50,000-gallon concrete reservoir, and water pipes to all parts of the grounds. There is a store building, also, where campers can secure both the necessities and luxuries of life. The Woman's Missionary Union, William Jewell college, and Stephens college, each have a building. There are twelve private bungalows, also. The water comes from a deep well right on the mountain top, and is the purest and the best. Ice and edibles are brought daily to the bungalows and tent doors.
Farmers bring in their produce, also.

The program this year promises a treat in the way of class study, sermons, lectures, and recreation. Rev.
W. S. Abernathy, D. D., of Kansas City, will be the assembly preacher and pastor the first week. Rev. John F. Herget, D. D., of Cincinnati, will be the assembly preacher the second week. With these will be associated a large number of assembly leaders and workers.

A large number of people live in tents the two weeks. These are quite inexpensive. One can rent a good room in a bungalow for $10—an unfurnished room. A furnished room costs $15. The ground fee is $1 for the entire period.

Last year I motored to the Heights, going by way of Farmington. The road is good all the way. The distance is about 125 miles. Here is a good opportunity for an outing in the mountains—an inexpensive outing, and right at our doors. I shall be glad to talk with any and all contemplating such a two-week vacation, and to help them all I can, being one of the assembly managers. The date is August 3 to 15.

Mesa Verde Prophets.

The season so far verifies the weather predictions of the Indians who occasionally visit the Mesa Verde National Park in southwestern Colorado for trading purposes, but who never stay an hour longer than is necessary because of their dread of the "little people" whom they believe still inhabit, in spirit form, the prehistoric cliff dwellings that have made the Mancos Valley famous the world over. Last fall the Mesa Verde prairie doves deserted their villages for new ones and the Indians have been shaking their heads over it all winter.
"Rain, much rain," they say; "rain all summer." So far they seem to have predicted right.

And now they are shaking their heads. "Cold, much cold," they say; "bad winter coming." Because this summer game has been unusually plentiful on the Mesa Verde. Deer are more frequently seen than for years. Rabbits and hares are so numerous one can scarcely go about without seeing them in large numbers.
Coyotes and mountain lions are also unusually plentiful, which may be explained by the abundance of the small game on which they live.

Ex-Confederate Encampment.

The 18th Annual Encampment of the South Central Missouri Ex-Confederate Association will begin on Tuesday, August 24th, 1915, and continue 4 days.

The Executive Committee will meet at the ground on Saturday, July 24th, 1915, to let contract for work on grounds, and to receive bids to furnish band music, steam swings, and other entertainments.

Members of the committee are: L.
C. Simmons, of Raymondville; J. D.
Pharris and D. M. Thomas, of Licking; J. M. Williams, of Edgar Springs; M. C. Malone, of Winkler; James McClure and S. B. McClure, of Lake Springs; and J. W. Asbridge and J. E.
Organ, of Salem.

By order of Committee.
J. E. ORGAN, Sec'y.

A New Arcadia.

As suggested by Julia Waggoner Ward, Postess and Naturalist, under the nom de plume of "Loma, of the Ozarks."

Arcadia, Mo., situated in the heart of the mystic Ozarks, noted for its sublime beauty, and popular as a pleasure resort, may be long be-featured as Ozarks great midway health resort.

The Ponca de Leon Bath Company of Hot Springs, Ark., who will open the marvelous "De Leon Baths" (Clay) at that place this coming season, are now negotiating with some of Arcadia's leading business men relative to establishing a branch department in this beautiful and picturesque valley, which is in truth The Eden of the Ozarks.

Mr. Louis Miller, an architectural genius and the foremost promoter of Arcadia, Mr. Boardman, of the Arcadia Valley Bank, Capt. Buck, Proprietor of the Arcadia Hotel and Cottage Company, and other clever "Arcadians," who have the interest of their home town at heart, are figuring on embracing this marvelous health proposition, which would mean a great future for Arcadia as well as Ironton as a "right-hand bower," for already there is a dash of spirit and progress about this beautiful little town, which bespeaks of a popular business and social center, and like Arcadia, it embraces many beautiful homes; the advantage of good schools and churches, and there is a touch of cleverness and social prestige manifested in these "Connecting Links of the Valley," which is seldom found in towns twice their size.

Many wealthy St. Louisians own beautiful homes here, where, together with host of friends, they while away the midsummer days in this beautiful Valley; there is also a constant dash of tourists from the distant city and various local towns, which lends a touch of spirit and progress to this beautiful little resort.

Being a student of nature, I naturally drifted into the study of minerals and will say that I take great pleasure in promoting their material value, especially the "De Leon" or health property clay, for herein lies a truly beautiful mission, and the time is not far distant when it will be recognized as the greatest magnetic healer in the world.

Further information regarding the discovery and material value of this marvelous clay will be published in the next issue of this cleverly edited paper, which is to Arcadia as well as well as Ironton, a welcome messenger.

Speaking of the beauty of Arcadia, I shall never forget the impression the same made upon me while present at a Sunset Service, conducted by Rev. Clark of the M. E. Assembly.
The view was obtained from the western slope of Arcadia Heights, and is indescribable, for the beauty of midsummer in the sunset's departing gleam lent additional charm to the quiet valley and a new glory to the templed hills, and from this point of view one beholds nature's own masterpiece—hence beyond human power to interpret. Thus, in the midst of this sublime environment, the theme of sunset service (rendered so efficiently by Rev. Clark) was all the more impressive, the pathos of his words, (sacred to life's true story) fell like dew upon velvet, in the sweet silence of Nature's divine repose.

Farmers' Short Course.

Is this county going to have a five-day farmers' short course this fall or winter? The Missouri College of Agriculture has the men ready to give the work and dates are being assigned as fast as the applications go in. It is strictly a game of "first come, first served." According to A. J. Meyer, in charge of agricultural extension at the College of Agriculture, the calls are going in earlier than usual, making it necessary for communities that want one of these five-day practical farmers' courses to speak up promptly.
Present indications are that every date will be taken by September 1.

Five-day farmers' courses have been given by the Missouri College of Agriculture for the last three years.
They have met a demand and satisfied it. They have come to stay. One course in a community is the signal for another.

If this county wants one or more of these courses, it will find the Missouri College of Agriculture ready to come more than halfway. The college will furnish the men if the community will provide their hotel and traveling expenses. That sounds like a fair division of responsibility, does it not?
It costs the college two dollars for every one that it costs the community. Thirty short courses are all that can be held this winter. It is up to this county to share in the benefits of the work.

Inform the Editor.

One of the most difficult of the editor's jobs is to get facts about births, marriages and deaths. People seem to think he ought to know these things by intuition. If not that, the birth, marriage or death is of such importance in the immediate family that it is presumed the editor will be informed by some wireless or just grow into the information. Then, when the paper comes out, and no mention is made of the event, the editor is blamed for not running a good newspaper or not getting all the news. Remember there are a good many people in this county. If the editor knew each of them by name, besides their family history and the chief events in the lives of every individual, he wouldn't be an editor.

He'd be a demi-god, resting his feet on a cloud and sipping ambrosia instead of inhabiting a broken-down office chair and wondering where the money for the next white paper bill is coming from. The life of the average newspaper man is a gay one.
Gathering news is second nature to him, like picking his teeth with the office pen and cussing the office towel.
Just the same, there's a limit to his omniscience. Last week, we thought of a million, eight hundred and forty nine thousand three hundred and sixty four things of importance, besides a couple of hundred thousand small items unworthy of mention.
And it was a slow week. We're anxious for the news for the paper, and it won't put you out much to drop by the office or telephone us what's happening at your house. Then if the item doesn't get in the paper, you have a right to come down and kick the stuffing out of the cat. Otherwise, don't blame us.—Handed In.
